U.F.A. Membership Drops From 38,000
To 15,000 in Year, Official Report

CALGARY, Nov. 2.—On September 30th, 1921, the membership of the U.F.A. was 38,000.

On September 30, 1922 the membership of the U.F.A. was 15,000. This striking decrease in the membership of the United Farmers of Alberta is announced in the current issue of the U.F.A., the official organ of the association, the decrease in the membership together with the decrease in the receipts due to the falling off in the membership, was the problem facing the members of the executive at the recent session in Calgary.

The U.F.A. makes no effort to explain the decrease in membership, but says that a policy of strictest retrenchment in expenditure was adopted by the board at the meeting.

Despite the increase in membership fees the receipts up to September 30th, amounted to $28,840, against $38,070 for the same time in the previous year. Out of the $28,840, a sum of $7,000 net was paid for the support of the newspaper which is a new outlay, and $10,000 more will be required for the same purpose before the end of the year. The revenue available for organization expenses and the upkeep of the central office has fallen almost $4,000 short of meeting the current expenses.

It was decided to inaugurate several economies, one of the most important of which was "to advise all directors and organizers that on account of lack of funds the central office could not take any responsibility for paying expenses for organization work until further advised."

TEA "is good tea"

How it makes you feel splendid

A Bright Outlook

National pride and confidence in Canada should be cultivated by every Canadian citizen whether native-born or Canadian by adoption. There is every reason why Canadians should be proud of and have confidence in their country, and these reasons are never more evident than during the period which has elapsed since the war, and as time passes they are becoming clearer and stronger.

Few countries, if indeed any, quite so successfully navigated the first two or three years after the Armistice. Canada had its financial worries, its industrial depression, its strikes, but there were in every respect less severe than in other countries. In fact, but for several years of repeated crop failures over considerable areas of the prairie provinces, which intensified the financial problem and because of reduced buying power operated to increase unemployment and thereby encouraged a feeling of unrest, it is doubtful if Canada's industrial depression and labor unrest would have been very noticeable. The Dominion, however, passed through the first and most difficult years of the after-war reconstruction period with ease, when compared with other countries.

Conditions in Canada are now steadily improving, and our position both nationally and individually is full of promise. Striking proof of the growing confidence of Canadians in their own Dominion was shown in connection with the recent Convention Loan of the Federal Government when present holders of maturing Victory Bonds took advantage of the offer to exchange the same for a new issue so generally that practically the full amount was thus provided for and the Minister of Finance will not be obliged to offer upon foreign capital. Canadians have thus demonstrated that, not only were they willing to purchase their country's securities with the war, but they are just as willing to buy such securities in time of peace.

Of all national currencies which went to a heavy discount in the United States during and immediately following the war, the Canadian dollar was the first to recover and get back to par.

The trade of Canada is steadily expanding, and doing so in the most healthy fashion. That is to say, the marked increase in the total trade of the Dominion being noted from time to time consists almost entirely of an increase in export trade. Imports are remaining stationary or slightly decreasing, thus showing that the Dominion is becoming more and more self-sufficient and attractive, while its profits rise throughout the world. More and more Canada is replacing capital and drawing gold from other lands, while at the same time we are obliged to send less money out of the country to meet international obligations.

A wonderful impetus to movement will undoubtedly result from this year's bumper crop in the West—the largest, it is now said, in the history of the Prairies, and even greater in volume than the record breaking crop of 1915.

The deficit in the operation of the National Railways is steadily decreasing, and while it may take some years yet to place the same in a position where it will be able to pay all its fixed charges, the day is approaching when it will more than earn its operating expenses and leave a small surplus to apply on capital charges.

There is a growing feeling of optimism. Mrs. James R. Green, Vernon, B.C., writes: "A week ago my baby boy, just one year and four months old, was sick with a cold, cough, and had the diarrhoea most terribly bad; his rectum was sore and bleeding, and I had to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry regularly for three days. He was as well as any boy could be. I wouldn't be without your remedy for any more children."

"Dr. Fowler's is for sale at all drug stores, and is highly valued by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Building operations throughout the Dominion this year have reached a total only comparable with some of the best pre-war years, and in all lines of industrial activity there is a marked increase in business and a consequent lessening of unemployment. In fact, the report from some of the Western labor bureaus is now to the effect that there are more jobs offering than there are applicants for them.

Debt liquidation is proceeding apace and a stronger, healthier financial situation steadily developing. There is nothing in the nature of a boom in evidence, and certainly no artificial inflation, but the best interests of the country and heart desire to see anything of that nature develop. There is, however, a sane, substantial betterment taking place which all indications point to a continuation of this throughout the coming year.

Apart from its debt paying possibilities, the chief value of the 1912 Western crop is in the restoration of confidence among thousands of people who, must frankly be admitted, were becoming somewhat discouraged. While the bountiful yields this year are an exception to the rule, they have demonstrated that the very lean years recently experienced are also an exception. More normal times are ahead, and with renewed confidence the Canadian people can with their usual average ability and energy build a prosperous future for themselves and their country.

John Bull and Uncle Sam

Small Peoples of the World Learning to Look to Britain for Justice

The United States has expressed, through a newspaper interview given out by Secretary Hughes, its sympathy with Britain's demand that the Italian fleet shall be allowed to pass to the shipping of the world. Yet the United States, as one of the great powers, has done nothing apparently to cause its views in this matter to prevail. Like France and Italy, the United States knows that Britain will not again allow the Turk to be so powerful. It is rather troubling to observe how confidently the United States leaves its foreign entanglements on the doorstep of John Bull expecting him to keep things straight. The charity dispensed throughout distressed Europe and Asia by the United States is great work, well done. But all the small oppressed peoples are made to know that it is Charity only and not Justice which Uncle Sam has to dispense. The small peoples of the world are learning that if it is charity they want they should appeal to the rich Uncle Sam. If it is justice they want, they must see if John Bull can do anything for them.—Toronto Star.

Oldest U.S. Strike Ends

Started in 1888, is Terminated by Death of Striker

The oldest strike in the United States is ended and the strike, Albert M. Parneto, is buried. Parneto went on strike in 1888 when he was pilot on an old wood-burning tug on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and he never gave it. He continued to draw strike pay until his death. At his funeral, which was held at the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and a delegation of striking seamen, followed his body to the grave.

DIARRHOEA IS DANGEROUS

To Teething Babies DURING HOT WEATHER

Hot weather is a dangerous time for the babies when cutting their teeth, and all mothers should watch very closely for four signs of distress: colic, cholera infantum or any other bowel trouble.

There is no remedy so safe and effective as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and all mothers who have used it speak of it with the greatest feeling of optimism.

Mrs. James R. Green, Vernon, B.C., writes: "A week ago my baby boy, just one year and four months old, was sick with a cold, cough, and had the diarrhoea most terribly bad; his rectum was sore and bleeding, and I had to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry regularly for three days. Dr. Barnardo's Homes

26,000 Boys and Girls Have Been Sent to Canada

The fifty-sixth annual report of Dr. Barnardo's Homes records important additions to the "sanctuary of rescue" during 1921. These included the William Baker Technical School, Goldings, near Hertford, a new convalescent home for cases of surgical tuberculosis at Polkstone, a new home at Toronto for immigration work in Canada, and three new homes at the boys' garden city at Woodford Bridge.

The emigration of year is described as having been of mutual interest. "Canada has received 506 of our best boys and girls, bringing up the total of those whom we have sent to the Dominion to 26,580. But Australia has stepped into line as a competitor with Canada. An influential committee has been formed in Sydney. A large home has been purchased and presented to the Barnardo institutions as an emigration centre, and our first official party sailed for Sydney in August. It was a small party of only forty-seven boys, but they were boys of the finest type. They have won golden trophies in the fifth continent, and every province is calling out for more of the same class. It is plain that in Australia the future of guaranteed emigrants such as our boys are assured from a worldly point of view. Further series will doubtless follow in the wake of the first. From 1886 to the end of 1921, 92,530 boys and girls entered the homes."

A large home has been purchased and presented to the Barnardo institutions as an emigration centre, and our first official party sailed for Sydney in August. It was a small party of only forty-seven boys, but they were boys of the finest type. They have won golden trophies in the fifth continent, and every province is calling out for more of the same class. It is plain that in Australia the future of guaranteed emigrants such as our boys are assured from a worldly point of view. Further series will doubtless follow in the wake of the first. From 1886 to the end of 1921, 92,530 boys and girls entered the homes."

The emigration of year is described as having been of mutual interest. "Canada has received 506 of our best boys and girls, bringing up the total of those whom we have sent to the Dominion to 26,580. But Australia has stepped into line as a competitor with Canada. An influential committee has been formed in Sydney. B.C. Wants to Exclude Asiatics Says Major Crehan

Addressing the Winnipeg branch of the Army and Navy Veterans, Dominion President Maj. M. J. Crehan, of Vancouver, declared the white residents of British Columbia were seeking exclusion of all Asiatics from that province. Referring to what he termed the "peaceful and quiet invasion" of British Columbia, Maj. Crehan said they were thrusting white persons from fishing and lumbering industries and from the market gardening.

WORDS OF PRAISE FOR BABY'S OWN TABLETS

No medicine revolves such great praise from thankful mothers as Dr. Williams' Baby's Own Tablets. Once a mother has used them for her little ones she will use nothing else. The Tablets are a solid lot for infants. They regulate the bowels and stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; relieve colds and simple fevers; promote healthy sleep and make teething easy. Concerning them Mrs. Omer Leffler, Madamville, Pa., writes: "I am well satisfied with Baby's Own Tablets and will always use them for my little ones." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Traffic in Habit-Forming Drugs

By Dr. J. C. Shearer, Senior Service Council of Canada

Attention to the use of habit-forming drugs such as opium, morphine and cocaine has assumed such large proportions and has been difficult to suppress and make it impossible to have physical, mental and moral of its enslaved victims as to cause grave concern to leaders alike in Church and State. Parliament is always busy in making the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act more stringent and effective. The anti-opium committee by members in Commons or Senate is now hot to accomplish the end.

The present Premier, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, then Minister of Labor, introduced the Act in 1911. It has been strengthened since under the Right Honorable Sir Robert Borden and Arthur Meighen and last session under the Hon. H. S. Bland, Minister of Health. The penalty was raised to seven years. Whipping was added where drugs are supplied to juveniles, and smuggled opiates convicted offenders are ordered deported after serving sentence.

It is interesting to note the distribution of this traffic in the provinces of the Dominion. The very latest figures supplied by the Federal Department of Health, giving the numbers for Federal convictions for the year ending 31st March, 1922, are as follows:

	Non-Total Chinese
P. E. I.	0 0 0
Nova Scotia ..	2 3 1
N. Brunswick ..	14 2 15
Manitoba	16 0 15
Ontario	62 52 114
Quebec	28 72 100
Alberta	101 59 160
Saskatchewan ..	237 153 390
B. C.	215 209 424
Total	415 424 839

We have arranged these figures in ascending order.

The first fact that strikes one in the table is the tremendous proportion of Chinese in this offence, amounting to 63 out of 315. This now has attached to it a stigma which is a penalty will probably in a few years materially alter these figures. It is to be noted that many "practise men" of the Chinese offenders are not Canadian citizens and are therefore subject to deportation when convicted. These said other men, their ways are here Canada.

It is interesting to note that no mention is made of Japanese or that Indians in this statement. It is to be noted that in some provinces that it results in increased addiction to the use of drugs. These data clearly show that the traffic in habit-forming drugs is a serious problem. The two provinces under production show 123 convictions out of 315 for all Canada. If the Chinese are left out the figures are 112 in these two provinces out of 211 in all Canada. It is to be noted that the Chinese are not only a source of drugs, but that they certainly do not increase it. British Columbia's quota of 15 permits, the Chinese which are the Chinese there that is why other parts of Canada is not abnormally large, believe me, as Statistics Canada.

But it is to be noted that in all western provinces, leaving out the Chinese, the convictions are proportionately much larger than in Ontario and the Maritime Provinces. Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia have 15 each and Quebec 14 with a population of half a million more than the last mentioned. The two of Quebec, Ontario and the Maritime Provinces, including Chinese, are not not including them is abnormal. This is contrary to the fact that the French-Canadian, out of the 237 in that province only 21 are opium offenders. In the Maritime Provinces, 310 of these 21 are only 11 are opium offenders. This is highly significant in Quebec where Montreal, Montreal itself is the most populous. The Health Department's more complete report gives Montreal 216 including Chinese, or 27 without them in a population of perhaps 725,000. Compare this with the figures for the whole of the Maritime Provinces, 35 including Chinese, or 24 without them, out of a population of 1,000,000. Or compare it again with Ontario—convicted Chinese, 150 Chinese, or 14 without them, out of a population of not much less than 2,000,000.

This can hardly be explained by the cosmopolitan character of Montreal's population. Winnipeg, Vancouver and other cities are not as cosmopolitan in proportion to population as Montreal. And there is no finer type of population anywhere than the people of Montreal in general.

Montreal has had for many years an abnormally large and fast negro population.

Candian Bacon

Canada Faces keen Competition in Export Bacon Trade

Prices of Canadian bacon on the English market continue to decline, and the reports of the Montreal Committee of Sixteen conclusively show.

Bearing in mind that social and narcotic drugs are twin evils and have been companion, each the cause and the effect of the other, is the explanation in the whole or large part to be found in this fact.

The present Premier, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, then Minister of Labor, introduced the Act in 1911. It has been strengthened since under the Right Honorable Sir Robert Borden and Arthur Meighen and last session under the Hon. H. S. Bland, Minister of Health. The penalty was raised to seven years. Big Land Owners of England Must Mend Their Ways

The big landowners of England have been told, in substance, that if they do not mend their ways, they will lose their land business and that if they do not mend their ways, they will lose their land business and that if they do not mend their ways, they will lose their land business.

The speaker was Lord Haldane, Minister of Agriculture, who, during the war, before the Government was in the food supplies of the country. The occasion was an address before the British Association.

"The British agricultural landowner today is in a position," Lord Haldane asserted, "which is not to be envied. He is a man who has made a bad mistake in the land business and that if they do not mend their ways, they will lose their land business and that if they do not mend their ways, they will lose their land business."

October 2nd, 19—

Exhibitions and fairs are extraordinary popular in Western Canada. It is, as Mr. O'Hara said, because "diana must have something to celebrate."

The Caribon City Annual Exhibition was held on Thursday and Friday of last week, and we all went in from the fair to the fair.

To judge by the crowd which thronged the fair grounds, the neighbouring ranches must have been despoiled. I am sure that everyone for miles around was in town.

Best, and men, women and children, white, Indian and Chinese, all seemed to be there, and all good-naturedly oblivious to the discomforts due to lack of accommodation, heat, and rain.

They were very modest, and I was not so fortunate as to make the acquaintance of any of them. However, Mr. Livingston and I went to see them in "A Knight of the Prairie" on Thursday evening.

The play was the usual western melodrama—with a heroine who made me think of Jerry Brown's mother and her fears, and a hero who looked no more like a cowboy than he looked like the Lord Chief Justice—and the scenery had evidently been mislaid in transit.

When the bold bad cattle-lifter is confronted with the proof of his guilt and the heroine confesses that she has misjudged the hero, "though her heart was ever his," the actors shrouded by beautiful against a Forest of Arden background with an ivy-covered church in the middle distance. I but cannot forget to mention the fish head, who is an indispensable feature of "dramas of western life."

I am sure that the "dramas of western life" were on land or sea. They were hunted in the forests of the north, and carried a monochrome, and his conversation consisted chiefly of such phrases as "My dear, I am a fish head," "Don'tcher know," spoken with an atrocious pseudo-Scottish accent.

Concerning the Cheery Chickadee.

"OL' Lorykins often remind me of Chickadee," laughed Stella, the Wishing Fly, after she had watched them as they roared and tumbled in play.

"What are Chickadees?" asked the ever curious Pimble. He suddenly stopped playing and came over to his adored Stella.

"Well, my dear," she cried, "to think that you don't know what Chickadees are! They are the cunningest, cheekiest kind of birds you could possibly imagine."

"And is that why I remind you of them?" asked Snookums, shyly edging nearer to the Fairy.

"Surely, my dear Lorykins doesn't remind you of a Chickadee?" and Pimble grinned mischievously.

"She thought it best not to, as you know, she hates to hurt anyone's feelings, and after all, poor little Lorykins cannot very well help being sleepy most of the time. So she turned from Pimble to Snookums and answered his question with a nod."

"Tell us all about them," he begged.

"Chickadees," began Stella, "are about an inch smaller than a Sparrow, which would make them five inches long. They have black necks, throat and crown. Their wings and tails are gray with white edgings, while the rest of them is a dull white. This doesn't sound as though they were as good looking as they really are, for they are actually pretty little things; but the prettiest thing about them is their sweet, cheerful chirp. They are always chirping their merry call, which sounds like 'cheer, cheer, cheer'."

"Oh," explained Pimble, "that's how they get their name, isn't it?"

"Stella nodded and continued: 'Most birds live in warm countries in the cold days of the winter. The Chickadee stays through the snow and dreariness of winter, as though it feels that its little presence helps to make things a bit more cozy—and it does. And it is at its best in a snowstorm. I am sure that if Chickadees could they would play snowball and peck each other!'"

"They have a great deal to tell us about the winter," said Pimble, and then, suddenly thinking of something that amused her, she suddenly added: "But they are so clever that they often save themselves from being eaten by a cooed old house of some Woodpecker or Nuthatch. Once I found two Chickadees keeping house very happily. A Squirrel's old hole, for it was that that they were in, and they had been hunting for it."

"How about the Squirrel?" asked Pimble. "A Squirrel is a terrible enemy of the Chickadee, for it is always hunting for it."

"No; you're quite right; but in this particular case the poor little Squirrel had been killed by a thug, and the Squirrel was so frightened that it hid its hole, and it hid from pain and shame."

"The Squirrel was so frightened that it hid its hole, and it hid from pain and shame. The Squirrel was so frightened that it hid its hole, and it hid from pain and shame."

NERVOUS MOTHERS
Cumbered with endless rounds of duty, the tired, nervous mother severely finds in Scott's Emulsion tonic-help of rare value. A little of Scott's after meals for few days cures a world of Grief. Try it.

What do you look like? "I feel like a bird," said a mother who had been thinking of his own danger? And that man was Lawrence Pugh! It is any wonder that England rules the world when even her "degenerates" can act in such a way.

But to return to the pleasant things. After the steering compass the ladies' race, in which each contestant—there were five—four horses; that is, after riding the first horse around the quarter-mile track, the disappointed mountaineer again went on, doing this until she had gone four times around, with a different horse each time. In little place to point out to Mr. Livingston that the race was won by a child who was a side-saddle, while the other four contestants were on the ground.

"I must enter next year; I should love to do it," said the child who was a side-saddle, while the other four contestants were on the ground.

Desertion of Children
Becomes Extraditable
Has Been Added to List Between U.S. and Canada.

"Wild desertion of child non-support of minor or dependent children," has been added to the list of extraditable offenses as between the United States and Canada. The addition was made as the result of a supplementary convention signed at London on May 10, 1922, by Hon. George Harcourt, British Minister to London, and Hon. Arthur Carson, Secretary for Foreign Affairs. The convention was ratified on July 23 and came into effect ten days after publication. It was published at Ottawa by special issue of the Canada Gazette dated Saturday, Oct. 14.

Lloyd George Resigns And Bonar Law Takes Up Reins Of Government

London.—After occupying the office of Prime Minister through seven of the most critical years of British history—three years of war and four years of reconstruction—David Lloyd George went into the wilderness to-day.

This was the description in his Manchester speech of his position if the Unionist wing of his followers should vote him. Unionist Mr. MacDonald, on the Coalition was decided upon by the meeting which Austen Chamberlain had called at the Carlton Club and which was attended by the Coalition members of the House of Commons and a handful of lords who were enrolled in the cabinet. The vote was 156 to 87 against the Chamberlain policy of pleading the party to sustain the Coalition, and in favor of a general election to confirm its course. The meeting was followed by a succession of swift events which carried the Coalition Government into the darkness.

Andrew Bonar Law will put on the Prime Minister's mantle for a short term of office. The King summoned him to Buckingham Palace and invited him to form a new government, which Mr. Bonar Law will undertake, although the state of his health, which compelled him to withdraw from public life a few months ago, makes it a risky venture. Before Mr. Bonar Law can formally accept the Premiership, however, a meeting of the Unionist party must be held to elect a new leader to carry out the policy to be decided by caucus. This meeting will be held within a few days, when Mr. Bonar Law will be chosen.

LLOYD GEORGE MAY LEAD CENTRE PARTY

FIVE DISTINCT PARTIES LOOM UP IN BRITISH POLITICAL HORIZON

London.—In the still slightly apocalyptic political situation, only two facts stand out as definite. One is that Mr. Lloyd George will be almost immediately a general election, and that parliamentary ratification of the Irish constitution is safely assured.

Andrew Bonar Law, who is to lead the new Government, in a message to an evening newspaper, continued his intention to advise King George to immediately dissolve Parliament and added that this fact would give ample time to deal with the Irish legislation. He did not indicate, however, whether the present Parliament would be re-elected or whether general elections would be held immediately, and the Irish legislation left to the new Parliament. Either plan would be practicable, the only point being that ratification of the Irish treaty must be effected before December 6.

Mr. Lloyd George, in a message sent to William Cosgrave, President of the Irish Senate, has renewed any fear of opposition from him in his new position as leader of the Opposition in Parliament. The question of a "bury" on behalf of the "die hards," has made a similar promise, so there is no party in the House of Commons that is likely to offer any hindrance to carrying of the Irish treaty into effect.

Mr. Lloyd George, who during the war split the Liberal party into two sections, has now done the same thing by the Unionist party. Thus, instead of the two original parties there now are four, with the Labor party making the fifth. There will no longer be an anti-party, which was the case during the great, long rule agitation was able to dominate the Westminster Parliament by throwing its 70 members to whichever side it chose. With the five separate parties, it is clear that no single party can form a majority, but the Government will be unaided by further alliances. It has to be remembered that the whole of the election machinery and the funds of the Conservative party belong to the rebellious Younger section of the group.

Mr. Lloyd George is credited with intentions to create a Centre party. This would necessitate the creation also of new party machinery and party funds, for the former Premier has no such funds or machinery at present at his disposal.

No general election for many years has presented problems whose solution is so difficult to forecast. One of the war veterans says that it will turn to the single question of for and against Lloyd George, and therefore will be a purely personal contest.

Fatal Automobile Accident

One Killed and Four Injured in Crash Near Saskatoon

Saskatoon.—Helen Bird, 21 years old, of Saskatoon, was killed instantly in a motor accident six miles east of Vancouver, Sask., at 9:50 Sunday morning. Her head was completely severed from her body by the running board of the car under which she was pinned.

Her mother, Mrs. P. J. Bird, lives in Saskatoon City Hospital seriously injured. It is unknown at present whether she will recover.

Four other occupants of the car escaped, two with minor injuries and two without a scratch. The father of the dead girl, P. J. Bird, a Canadian National Railway conductor, living in Regina, and her aunt, Mrs. Greenlee of Grenfell, Sask., were badly shaken; her two brothers, aged eight and six years, got off unhurt, almost by a miracle.

The tragedy occurred on a straight stretch of road between Saskatoon and Vancouver as the party was en route to Kinross, Sask. Mr. Bird was driving, and going too near the edge of the road, attempted to swerve in sudden. He turned too sharply, the car crashed across the road almost at right angles, struck a low bank on the other side and overturned. It made a complete double somersault. The machine was entirely destroyed.

The dead girl and the survivors were brought into Saskatoon by a farmer from the neighborhood of Vancouver, and the mother was immediately taken to the city hospital.

Birmingham Members Says Other Countries Are Superceding Canada

Ottawa.—The British Empire is destined to be the dominating influence in the world, Neville Chamberlain, M.P. for Birmingham, said in an address here. He made a vigorous plea for the maintenance of British stock in Canada by the encouragement of emigration from the British Isles to Canada. Of late years, he said, Australia and New Zealand had supplanted Canada in this respect.

Grain Growers Would Curb Abuses Caused By Mixing Of Wheat

Regina.—Designed to curb abuses arising out of the mixing of grain in private terminal elevators, the executive committee of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association have decided to ask the Board of Grain Commissioners to amend the regulations and provide for strengthening the system of inspection.

The requested amendment provides for a change in the sample market regulation No. 17 "to prohibit the use of terminal elevators receiving grain owned and stored here by farmers, except with the consent of the owner in the form of a contract prescribed by the board, a duplicate of which shall be delivered to the owner."

Under present regulations grain received into private elevators must be of the property of such elevators with the proviso, however, which in actual practice permits commission houses to enter into a contract for the storing, or handling and mixing of grain consigned to them as "held" grain in a private terminal elevator, with a further proviso that such contract "may, if designed, be in the form of a warehouse receipt which shall be registered by the board as to quantity only."

It was explained that under this regulation the commission agent is able to dispose of grain consigned to him for holding without the farmer having the slightest knowledge of what has been done with it. Whereas the proposed amendment would, through the contract form, give the farmer complete information of the transaction affecting his own "held" grain.

In asking for this amendment and also that the board "employ a sufficient number of competent and adequately paid samplers and inspectors," the resolution recites that "the opinion is widespread that the mixing of grain as heretofore conducted has tended to a lowering of the average of the grades and consequently of the selling value thereof, to the loss of the farmers;" that "we believe that in the interests of the farmer no grain shipped out of terminal elevators should be admitted to any grade if lower than the average of the same grade as at original destination."

Canada Will Enter

Empire Exhibition

Premier King Has Asked All Provinces to Co-operate

Ottawa.—Canada will participate in the British Empire Exhibition to be held in London in 1924. Announcement to this effect has been made by Premier King. Mr. King further stated that the extent of Canada's participation depended, to a certain extent, on what the various provincial governments were prepared to do. He had, he said, addressed a letter to the provincial prime ministers, asking to the extent which they were prepared to go in taking part in the exhibition, and replies were now being awaited.

GREEK REFUGEES IN PANIC

Rodosto, Thrace.—This town has become a jumping-off place in the Greek evacuation of Eastern Thrace. Twenty-eight thousand panic-stricken refugees are gathered here, all dominated by the same fear of the Turk that swayed the refugees who left Smyrna three weeks ago.

Everybody believes the Turks are almost at the door and nothing can reassure them. The general belief is that the Kemalists will arrive simultaneously with the British troops of occupation and every refugee expects to put a long stretch of water between himself and Rodosto before that event.

The whole town and all its extra population have abandoned any pretence of performing normal duties and have gathered along the beaches awaiting nervously for the ships which do not come.

A body of peasants with about 1,000 farm wagons left recently for a railway station 20 miles to the north on a rumor that the trains would wait there, but the long procession, bedazzled by the rain returned, having been turned back by the military, who told them they must be evacuated by the sea.

All the shops, even the bakeries, are closed and their owners are with the crowds around the narrow plank quays. The Government has threatened its bread ration. Major Magaritis and most of the other civil officials left recently.
